

INAVIA press release 01/2026 – for immediate release

Compostable bioplastic products for aviation and tourism

INAVIA Aviation Consultants GmbH (www.inavia.aero) becomes the exclusive cooperation partner of Götterbote Import & Export Handels UG (www.goetterbote.eu) for the distribution of environmentally friendly and fully compostable bioplastic products.

Götterbote Import & Export Handels UG is the exclusive representative and distribution partner for all European countries for the sustainably produced and fully compostable bioplastic products of the Indian company Ecolastic Products Pvt. Ltd. (www.ecolastic.in), a global leader in the manufacture of compostable bioplastic products from renewable raw materials such as corn and sugar cane. All Ecolastic products are certified worldwide and in the EU and therefore meet all environmental and quality requirements. No toxins or harmful microplastics are produced during the disposal.

Ecolastic's portfolio includes compostable carrier bags, bin liners, packaging films, agricultural films and flexible packaging in a wide range of sizes. The products are a sustainably produced alternative to conventional or recycled plastic products, saving 75% energy in production compared to normal plastic products with an 80% recycled content.

INAVIA will be responsible for sales and distribution in aviation to airlines, airports, catering companies, duty-free shops and other aviation businesses, as well as in the tourism sector for tour operators and, together with Götterbote, for hotels and other tourism businesses. All other markets are served directly by Götterbote.

Michael Hövel, Managing Director of INAVIA:

"The European aviation industry has set itself the goal of becoming climate neutral by 2050. Compostable bioplastic products made from renewable raw materials can make a significant contribution to this. Plastic packaging, bags and waste bags are used everywhere in aviation. The mountain of plastic waste generated every day is enormous and must be replaced by compostable bioplastics, which do not release toxins or produce harmful microplastics when disposed of.

As 75% of energy is already saved during production, Ecolastic products reduce the environmental impact twice: during manufacture and during disposal. And because they are manufactured in India, the products are also very attractively priced."
